

The map shows the distribution of the 1997-2001 census population in 1997 across the United Kingdom. The population is represented by red and green numbers, and blue circles and lines indicate specific population data points. The map includes county boundaries and a scale bar in miles (0 to 100).